Respect for Work

Rabikala's neighbours are friendly. They are involved in different occupations. One of their works is farming. They grow crops, vegetables and fruits. They don't consume all their products. They sell the surplus for income.

Ghanshyam is another neighbour. He is a cobbler. Everyone likes him for quality shoes. He earns good money from the sale of shoes. He is known to everyone now a days. Everyone appreciates his skill. Sonam's job is to build houses. Every new house in the village is built by him. He has earned good name and money from his profession. Rabikala, though a child, has the sense of importance of work. She respects work. She helps her neighbors.

1. Answer these questions:

- a. What work does Ghanshyam do?
 - b. What do the farmers grow?
- 2. What tools are required to these professionals? Match the following:

Mason	Chalk
Teacher	Plough
Tailor	Hammer
Farmer	Needle

The End.
